GERMAN BOMBS, MACHINE-GUN U.K. TOWNS: R.A.F. BAGS TWENTY PLANE

Wide Areas Subjected to Nazi Attacks

War Cabinet Draws Up Own Plans For Defence Of Ireland As De Valera Refuses British Offer

By WALLACE CARROLL

British United Press. Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin
LONDON, July 11.—German planes flew over the British Isles again today, bombed and machine gunned scattered towns wherein several persons were killed, and fought a series of battles with the Royal Air Force which brought down at least 12 enemy craft. The R. A. F. lost three planes.

"Enemy aircraft this morning dropped bombs on the east coast," said a communique of the home security ministry. "A railway siding was hit and several persons were killed."

"Some damage also was done in a small town in the Midlands, where casualties were caused to children by flying glass and where a few people were killed."

Nazis Attacking In Large Numbers

The German planes still were attacking in large numbers, but without attempting any big-scale bombing of specific points.

British planes and anti-aircraft guns heavily counter-attacked the raiding planes and three German raiders were shot down in a dog fight on the southwest coast.

AXIS POWERS STOP MOVE ON RUMANIA

Prevail On Hungary To Keep Out Of Balkans For Present

ROME, July 11.—Italian Foreign Minister Ciano's telegram today, as he returned from important conferences in Germany, that Germany and Italy had prevailed on Hungary to stay out of Rumania in order to avert a war in the Balkans, which it telegraphed said might bring invasion by "non-Balkan powers."

Russia is considered in Rome to be the only "non-Balkan power" likely to try to expand in that zone.

Hungary's representatives were coming to holding off on their claims upon Rumania's district of Transylvania at yesterday's meeting at Munich. Count Ciano returned to report to Mussolini on this meeting as well as upon his conference with Hitler last Sunday.

Editor Giovanni Ansaldi, Ciano's mouthpiece, said Hitler and Ciano had assured Hungary's premier,

Britain Denies Two Big Warships Struck By Bombs

British United Press Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin
LONDON, July 11.—The Admiralty today denied Italian claims that the battle cruiser Hood or the aircraft carrier Ark Royal had been hit by bombs in the Mediterranean. The statement said both ships fell near the ship but there was no damage and no casualties.

TORIES REFUSE INVITE TO SIT ON WAR GROUP

OTTAWA, July 11.—Conservative Leader Hanson today told the Commons he would not accept the invitation extended by Prime Minister King July 8 that he become an associate member of the war committee of the cabinet.

Hon. G. S. Stirling (Cons. Yale), a former defence minister to whom the same invitation was extended, followed his leader's proposal by the prime minister that there be weekly conferences between the opposition chiefs and the war committee of the cabinet will be considered further, Mr. Hanson said.

Additional 40,000 Men Are Needed In Dominion's Forces

OTTAWA, July 11.—Hon. J. L. Ralston, minister of defence, and Hon. C. G. Power, air minister, sent out a call for more last night. Col. Ralston said 40,000 additional men were needed for the Canadian Active Service Force, the full-time soldiers, and Major Power said many thousands were wanted for part-time training in the non-permanent active militia.

"The fire draws closer to our own homelands," said Col. Ralston. "We can see the smoke and almost feel the flame." Britain's homelands were in the path of the fire. The battle of Britain had started and the battle of Britain was also the battle of Canada.

The war could not be won by defence alone. The time for offence would come but Canada needed men now to meet the emergency. Hanson said the response would be immediate.

CANADA INDUSTRY GETS HUGE FLOOD WAR TIME ORDERS

By B. T. RICHARDSON

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau
OTTAWA, July 11.—War orders from Britain and Canadian governments are pouring out to Canadian industry at a rate that no one visualized only a few weeks ago. This is a direct result of the transfer, put through July 1, of authority to Hon. C. D. Howe, to handle all United Kingdom purchases in Canada.

In the past ten days orders exceeding $150,000,000 have been placed. The exact figure from July 1 to 9 inclusive, was $146,803,000. This is more than all Canadian, British and French orders placed here in the first three months of the war. It is five times as much as Canada spent on re-arming in 1938.

Cutting through red tape, Mr. Howe has actually placed orders ahead of British regulations, knowing that Canada would take the output in any case. A $10,000,000 army truck contract was placed three weeks ahead of word from the British government.

The largest shell order in Canadian history reached the department of munitions and supply from the British government this week.

Today's War Moves

By J. W. T. MASON

British United Press War Report
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin
PREPARATIONS for continuing the war into next winter are indicated by arrangements for placing all of France's forthcoming harvest of food supplies under control of the German government. No private distribution of the harvest is to be allowed, and all food is to be allotted at the source by the Hitler conquerors of France.

Rationing of food among the French people is reported to be a sign that winter war is expected by Germany as with the large quantity of supplies already on hand, if a quick conquest of Great Britain were regarded as certain by Hitler, arrangements to place French farms under complete military control would be unnecessary.

It seems apparent that the German people is reported to be in advance against semi-famine conditions on the continent of Europe and as a result food shortages, particularly in the British blockade, are likely this winter.

The statement described strict food rationing established in the German-occupied territories while food was being poured into Germany from those regions.

The statement said that the use of the little stocks of raw materials left in occupied territories was severely restricted.

Those consuming iron, rubber and cotton, needed German permission to operate.

220 ITALIANS LOSE LIVES AS VESSEL SINKS

By J. W. T. MASON

ROME, July 11.—Two hundred and twenty Italian and Albanian officers and men lost their lives when the Italian motorship Paganini burned and sank June 28 off Durazzo, Albania. It was officially announced today.

The ship was en route from Bari, Italy, to Durazzo with 950 soldiers and 30 seamen aboard. Escorted ships went to the rescue at once.

The Paganini was a freight and passenger vessel owned by the Italian line and until it was drafted for war service, plied between western Mediterranean and northern European ports.

GERMANS STRIP INVADED LANDS OF FOOD STOCKS

By FREDERICK KUH

British United Press Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, July 11.—An authoritative British statement charges that Germany is stripping occupied territories of virtually all food stocks and raw materials and, as a result, food shortages, particularly in the British blockade, are likely this winter.

The statement described strict food rationing established in the German-occupied territories while food was being poured into Germany from those regions.

FARM FINANCE SURPLUS SAID BIG PROBLEMS

Bracken Discusses Wheat Industry With Officials At Ottawa

By R. T. RICHARDSON

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau
OTTAWA, July 11.—Urging full recognition of the problem confronting the western wheat industry, Premier John Bracken declared today that a solution must deal with two factors of paramount importance, financing of the farm population and the storage of surplus wheat.

Premier Bracken conferred with federal government officials and then proceeded to Montreal to talk over the wheat problem with leading bankers. He offered his solution to the authorities, Mr. Bracken said, but he believed that the Canadian people should realize the full extent of the wheat problem, which had to be dealt with in six weeks.

D. J. Reid, president of the Manitoba federation of agriculture, accompanied Mr. Bracken.

EARLY ACTION SEEN

Meanwhile signs pointed to early action on wheat policy by members of the wheat board, G. H. McIvor, chairman, W. C. Folliott, and Dr. East India.

EXPAND SOUTH NEW POLICY JAPAN LIKELY

Would Move In Direction Of French Indo-China

By H. O. THOMPSON

British United Press Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin
TOKYO, July 11.—Japanese cabinet advisers were reported at a meeting today to have favored strengthening the country's foreign policy by expansion southwards—in the direction of French Indo-China and the Dutch East Indies.

The newspaper Kokumin, which is close to the war office, said the advisers discussed closer relations between Japan and the axis powers. This was regarded by the newspaper as a trend against the government headed by Premier Admiral Matsuoka Yonai.

A writer in the newspaper forecast that the British would refuse again Japan's demand that they close the Burma road for supplies to China. In such an event, he said, Japan in retaliation, should occupy Hong Kong.

Then the writer said, "Japan's real enemy would not be Britain but America since America would be preventing some 30 British tankers from leaving Rumanian ports."

He urged the withdrawal of Japanese from the United States and the formation here of a militant anti-American organization.

Intensified political activity was expected here next week following return from a holiday at Karuizawa of former Premier Prince Fumimaro Kono, who has been engaged in attempts to merge all Japanese political parties into a single national party.

SOVIET WON'T PUSH TURKEY REPORT SAYS

Soviet Circles Deny Concessions Asked in the Dardanelles

LONDON, July 11.—R. A. Butler, foreign affairs under-secretary, told the House of Commons tonight that success in Britain's attempts to make friends with Soviet Russia "appeared more likely" in recent months.

ISTANBUL, July 11.—Official Russian quarters here said today that Russia has no intention of making any demands on Turkey.

These Russian circles denounced as "pure nonsense" a widespread fear in Turkey that Moscow is about to ask concessions in the Dardanelles Straits, or the Caucasus region of Turkey.

This fear apparently had substantiation yesterday when the government called an emergency meeting of the national assembly for tomorrow.

"Such a belief," said a Soviet spokesman, "is based on the erroneous impression that the U.S.S.R. has reverted to Czarist policy. Nothing could be further from the truth."

LONDON, July 11.—The government hopes to enrol every man, woman and child in the United Kingdom in a "column of silent soldiers" pledged to kill rumors and defeatist talk.

They will be asked to fight these evils by the use of their own power.

The 59-year-old Edmonton vigilante passed away without regaining the power of speech from a fractured skull and other injuries, suffered when his head struck a hatch beam on the pavement following an assault by two unidentified men near the intersection of 97 street and 104 avenue.

The dead man, victim of one of the most savage and unexplained attacks to take place here in a long time, had indicated clearly by signs to relatives who visited him in the hospital that he knew his assailants, but his injuries had so weakened him that he was unable to audibly name the persons responsible.

ATTACK WITNESSED

The attack that occurred at about 10 p.m. on Saturday, June 29, was witnessed by Victor Gamarch and Ken McArthur, Edmonton residents, who were walking along 104 avenue and noticed McGlone in conversation with two men, an argument seemed to be in progress. Suddenly the pair struck awfully at the older man, who fell heavily to the pavement. As soon as the latter dropped the attacking pair fled in the direction of the St. Regis hotel on 101 street.

This fear apparently had substantiation yesterday when the government called an emergency meeting of the national assembly for tomorrow.

"Such a belief," said a Soviet spokesman, "is based on the erroneous impression that the U.S.S.R. has reverted to Czarist policy. Nothing could be further from the truth."

"We shall have maintained our normal supply of food for the winter," he said, "and we have built a reserve of meat on the hoof and a large addition of cereals in stocks and barns for whatever emergency arises this winter."

GOODWILL ROLE FORMER KING'S APPOINTMENT
LONDON, July 11.—The British press and public exhibited satisfaction at the appointment of the Duke of Windsor as governor and commander-in-chief of the Bahamas.

The news apparently appealed to the romantic side of most Britishers who saw their former king in the role of goodwill ambassador to the West Indies.

The only editorial comment appeared in the Times, which said: "The West Indies as a whole may well receive the news as full of welcome significance at a time when events in Europe, and the friendly interest of their great neighbor in the north, have demonstrated their high importance in the international reckoning."

The Duke and Duchess are now in Lisbon, Portugal, to which they fled last month from their home in France ahead of the Nazi invasion. It was presumed they would go directly to the Bahamas.

A substantial part of the 2nd Division was already on special duty outside Canada and the government was considering what proportion of the remainder should be kept in Canada at the present time, he said yesterday. The troops to proceed overseas, however, were "not directly" troops of the 2nd Division.

The new defence minister, in a brief statement indicated some of the problems before the defence department. Among other things he indicated:

INDICATES PLANS
Immediate recruitment of 40,000 additional troops in the Canadian Active Service Force.

Recruitment up to full war strength of the 20 units of the non-permanent active militia.

Calling up the first quota under the Mobilization Act in six weeks.

The despatch of a further substantial number of trained troops to "outposts."

Canada is now "on its own" for equipment.

Bren-gun carriers and rifles will be ready to send overseas.

Bren-gun deliveries are being made ahead of schedule.

Officers of the 3rd and 4th divisions have been alerted and only await approval.

Two 2nd Division officers are training in England.

(Later, in a national broadcast, Col. Ralston repeated his statement that 40,000 men would be recruited for the C.A.S.F. and Hon. C. G. Power, air minister, said many thousands of men were needed for militia training.)

WANTS 'YETS' TO JOIN
Col. Ralston also expressed a strong hope that physically fit veterans would join the C.A.S.F. and militia units to stiffen morale and assist in training.

The defence minister's statement was made in reply to a question by Hon. R. B. Hanson, Conservative leader, as to the necessity of further overseas aid in manpower and equipment.

It came during debate on an amendment to the Defence Act to provide for appointment of a separate naval minister and for the air minister to act as associate defence minister with full powers in absence of the defence minister. The measure was given final reading.

First reading was also given a bill presented by Prime Minister Mackenzie King establishing the new national war services department to be administered by Hon. J. G. Gardiner.

The house also approved a government amendment to the income tax schedule exempting all war officers, non-commissioned officers and men in Canada's armed forces from the two per cent national defence tax on service pay and allowances. Previously only overseas officers and men or those engaged in sea and air operations in Canada were so exempted. War officers, non-commissioned officers and men had previously been exempted from income tax.

U.S. MEMBERS ASK BASES IN NOVA SCOTIA

Recommend Acquisition Of Air, Naval Sites In Canada, Bermuda

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Three members of the United States house of representatives' military committee, after surveying northeast coast defenses, recommended today United States acquisition and fortification of fleet and air bases in Nova Scotia and Bermuda.

The report was made by representatives Joseph Smith (Dem.-Conn.), Charles F. Padden (Dem.-Philadelphia) and Joseph Byrns (Dem.-Tennessee).

Smith said he proposed either purchase or lease of bases in Bermuda and Nova Scotia "right away."

Although the survey was confined to the northeast coast from New York to Maine, the three congressmen reported they had "no doubt but the same general conditions prevail in other areas."

They recommended modernization and increasing strength of defenses all along the Atlantic Gulf and west coasts.

Smith estimated the undertaking for the continental United States might cost $250,000,000 and for New England alone $40,000,000, not including improvements and an increase in airfields in New England.

Even if bases were strongly fortified and securely held in Nova Scotia and Bermuda, the report said, "the service pay and allowances. Previously only overseas officers and men or those engaged in sea and air operations in Canada were so exempted. War officers, non-commissioned officers and men had previously been exempted from income tax."

TWO LOST BOYS NOW BELIEVED TO BE DROWNED
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin
ATHABASCA, July 11.—As a result of investigations made Tuesday, it is now believed that the two Krywanchuk boys, reported lost in the Forfar district, have been drowned in a lake about a mile from their home.

A neighbor said he saw the boys on Sunday with a fish hook on a piece of wire. The fish hook and wire have been found in a boat on the lake, the boat drifted to the beach about 100 yards from the spot where it usually lay.

Cpl. Olson of the R.C.M.P. has made arrangements to borrow a boat from Hapville lake to drag for the bodies. The water is clear near the shore of the lake where the boys are believed drowned, but it is reported to be 50 feet deep in spots.

A further search for the lost Mrs. Alexander Halley, 85, who was lost in the same district several weeks ago, is contemplated as a result of reports that she was seen pushing through thick brush in an area that was not covered in the last search. She has been missing for three weeks and it is believed that she must have died of exposure.

P. E. I. Canada's Only Dry Province Result Plebiscite
CHARLOTTETOWN, July 11.—Complete returns in the Prince Edward Island liquor plebiscite were announced Wednesday revealing the province will continue as Canada's only "dry" province. A total of 10,426 voted for continued prohibition and 8,861 for the sale of beer and wine as beverages.

The soldier vote was overwhelmingly in favor of an amendment to the prohibition act, to permit the sale of beer and wine, 1,060 voting for the change and only 28 casting ballots in favor of continued prohibition under which liquor can be purchased in government stores only with a doctor's prescription. The plebiscite was held June 25.

KING GEORGE GIVES AWARDS FOR BRAVERY

Maj.-Gen. B. C. T. Paget who directed the evacuation of British troops from Andalsnes, Norway, without losing a man, was among the long list of those becoming Companions of the Order of The Bath (C.B.).

Maj.-Gen. J. E. Dugan of New Zealand was made a Knight of the British Empire (K.B.E.). Gen. Dugan previously had been created a Companion of the Order of The Bath. He also holds the Distinguished Service Order.

One of the new Knights is Air Marshal Richard E. C. Peirse, son of Admiral Sir Richard Peirse whose death was announced at Bath yesterday.

Royal Navy's Initiative In Mediterranean May Be Big Influence In War

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The war has flamed into action in the Mediterranean theatre on British initiative. That is the most salient fact of the current war news.

It outweighs in significance the results of the first brush between British and Italian sea power, the German-Italian moves to avert a war in the Balkan theatre of the axis, or German air and submarine attack on Britain's sea life lines.

MAY SHIFT WAR SCENE
A striking British naval success over Italy at this juncture might well shift the whole scene of the eastern war stage. It could powerfully influence the attitude of Turkey, of Greece, even of Russia. It could defeat the purpose of the axis-Hungarian conference in Munich and confront Hitler and Mussolini with increased, not lessened, economic pressure at their Balkan back door.

Whatever else it means, the sea and air clash in the Mediterranean is a stirring new notice that Britain means to fight to the bitter end. It also heavily underscores intimations by Prime Minister Churchill that Britain does not propose to fight only on the defensive.

With that engagement, Britain has taken the first step to break Italy's attempted blockade of the Mediterranean wasteland, the 100-mile span of sea between Sicily and Tunisia. British air and sea power is on the move from Gibraltar at the western entrance of the Mediterranean, and from Alexandria in the eastern end.

The objectives of these forays cannot be determined from the still fragmentary accounts of the sea-and-air actions. The admiralty in London intimated they were designed to feel out Italian naval dispositions. Rome claimed they were aimed at bombardment of Italian coast bases.

The British explanation seems to be the most logical. It implies steps are being taken to break Italy's sea power to decisive action or drive it into shelter of Italian shore batteries.

There has been more than one hint of an ultimate Russian resignation because of fear of German or Italian domination. The concern of the axis partners over Russia's Balkan moves and their uncertainty as to Moscow's purpose are sharply indicated in Munich reports that Hitler had virtually ordered Hungary to shelve for the present her territorial claims against Rumania.

Yet as every hint of that Munich move to still the Balkan turmoil, two developments have come to light which are the effectiveness of that Hitler-Mussolini diplomatic strategy.

One is Britain's assumption of naval initiative against Italy. The other is a rising tempo of internal political strife in Rumania, illustrated by King Carol's moves to suppress the Nazi-fostered "Iron Guard." A civil war in Rumania, certain to lead to outside intervention by her neighbors, could be as disastrous for Germany as any other kind of war in the Balkans.

Tax Lien Filed Against Author
NEW YORK, July 11.—An income tax lien for $108,191 was filed yesterday against Rafael Sabatini, the author, for unpaid taxes from 1932 to 1939 and taxes for the years 1931 to 1935.

NO DECISION YET REACHED ON CHILDREN

Future Of Large-Scale Plan Of Evacuation Still In Doubt

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 11.—The British government has made no decision yet on the future of the large-scale plan to evacuate thousands of children to Canada and the United States. But there are indications the plan will be curtailed considerably.

Shipping space and the Royal Navy's lack of spare ships to provide adequate convoys are the big problems but in some quarters it is being suggested that Washington should be approached for permission to use U.S. ships.

The plan has not been dropped but it appears it will be reduced considerably in scope. An authoritative source declared last night this source suggested that while the plan was conceived on the basis of thousands of children going overseas, it might be reduced to a scale of hundreds leaving the country. He emphasized the final decision has not been made by the government.

At Ottawa an immigration official said there would be keen disappointment throughout Canada if the plan were abandoned. "All the machinery is ready here now for the evacuation," this official said. "We just have to turn the switch and the organization will start to receive and care for these children for the duration of the war."

If the government scheme for the children was stopped, the private evacuation of children will be stopped as well, it was indicated.

Canadian Nickel MAKES MODERN AIRCRAFT POSSIBLE

AIRCRAFT FACTORIES are operating day and night. New plants are being rushed to completion. Planes are being wheeled from the assembly lines, put through their punishing tests, and crated for shipment.

Today's planes must be built with an ample margin of safety to stand up under terrific strains. Vital parts subject to stress, shock or wear depend upon Canadian Nickel for added strength and toughness. Nickel Alloy Steels are universally used for propeller shafts, connecting rods, gears and numerous other parts subjected to severe stresses, fatigue or wear. Nickel Alloys also protect against failure due to intense heat and corrosive fumes.

In producing increasing quantities of Canadian Nickel for the Empire's expanding industries, Canada's Nickel mines, smelters and refineries and their 11,000 Canadian employees stand ready to do their share. With its plants modernized and expanded, this Canadian industry is prepared to produce as never before.

Reorganization At Ottawa

The Dominion cabinet has undergone a general reorganization and some enlargement, as a result of the death of Hon. Norman Rogers and still more because of the added responsibilities which have fallen upon Canada through the scuttling of France.

Prime Minister King seems to have made a workmanlike job of the reconstruction. Where ministers have been shifted to other departments this has clearly been done with a view to placing them where their known abilities and experience suggested. While two of the new recruits have yet to show their capacity
for administration, Premier Macdonald of Nova Scotia has the advantage of experience gained in the provincial field.

We have now three ministers of defence, for land, sea and air, a fact that carries its own significance. All three are veterans of the former war, as are the two new ministers from Ontario. It is emphatically a war cabinet, as it should be, with the conduct of the war effort in the hands
of men experienced in military matters.

The creation of a separate department
of naval affairs, with a full-time minister in charge, is a meaningful departure. A year ago nothing was less likely. Now no one can be surprised at the action. The Canada of today is not the Canada of last year in respect to sea power, and the conditions we then knew will not come back.
Canada must be in future a naval power.
Elevation of the department to front rank
status quite plainly implies that some of the French warships may be added to our fast growing sea defences.

Death For Traitors

A bill is to be introduced at Ottawa to make death the penalty for treasonable conduct. What specific offences will be so classified will not be known until the clauses are published and given some measure of legal definition.

But the trend of preventive measures
thus indicated is plain enough, and the warning should be taken to heart by persons inclined to tread too close to the border line of good conduct—a number of whom have been appearing in the courts in recent weeks. The trend is toward harsher, not more lenient, punishment.

Canadians are a tolerant people; but
not just now in respect to "fifth column"
gentry of any breed or brand. There is
and will be a very positive public sentiment
in support of a thorough enforcement of the law against attempts to commit sabotage, promote sedition, stir up dissension,
dissuade men from enlisting, or to otherwise hinder the national war effort—
whatever and however severe the law may be made.

It will be noted that the bill in question
is to be brought down on the recommendation of a committee of parliament. This committee was appointed at a time when there was a somewhat wide demand for an easing of the Defence of Canada Regulations, and was expected to say in what particulars these were too severe. Instead,
the committee proposes death shall be the punishment for overt acts of treason. If the attitude of the committee members
has stiffened on the subject of war-time
behaviour, so has the attitude of the general public.

Suppressing The Unsuppressible

The members of the parliament of France, most of whose constituencies are occupied by German or Italian troops,
met at Vichy on Tuesday and legislated themselves out of office. They went through the motions of investing the Petain cabinet with authority to frame its own laws, draw up any constitution it may
please, and create a national assembly
which will ratify these proceedings and give them an appearance of validity.

All of course under instructions from Berlin, relayed by the cabinet in question,
and avowedly designed to abolish popular government in France and replace it with a bureaucracy patterned strictly on totalitarian lines. To the end that France may become another political and economic satellite in the orbit of Herr Hitler; which for the time it is and must be.

If the people of France had of their own free choice decided to make this change, it would have been their own business. It is not the duty of other countries to force democratic institutions upon them
or any other people, or insist that such institutions be maintained where they are no longer wanted.

But the people of France did nothing of the kind. They were not consulted, and should a plebiscite be submitted it can be only a farce. A moribund parliament, sitting under the muzzles of German guns, has presumed to vote the republic out of existence and say it shall be replaced by a dictatorship.

This has all happened before, with circumstantial variations, in the long and varied history of France. Twice before democratic institutions have been suppressed there by force, but they came back. They will come back again, for the French are a liberty-loving people. Petain and Co. had better watch for the turn of the tide, and get out while the getting is good.

From June 18th. to July 7th. Nazi raiders killed 115 civilians in England,
while 146 of their own number lost their lives. Losses of British fighting men are not given, but the daily reports have shown them to be small in comparison with those of the invaders. Napoleon once observed that a military operation was "splendid," but it was not "war." The haphazard Nazi raids have been neither.

President Roosevelt is recommending
to Congress new defence measures which will involve the expenditure of still another block of $5,000,000,000. Congressmen must by this time have lost count of the billions they have already voted for that purpose. But the important point is that there has been no notable opposition to the spending. If our neighbors were as slow as the other free nations to realize the coming menace, there is no uncertainty about the reception they intend to give the aggressors when they attack the United States.

GERMAN PLANS AS THEY AFFECT THE

UNITED STATES
As soon as the Balkan situation is more or less clear the Germans intend to "create order"
in the Iberian Peninsula—Spain and Portugal.
Portugal they expect to take with the aid of the "fifth column," which is tremendous. It consists of German tourists and technicians who have been there most visibly
for months as outposts of the Gestapo and of internal elements who are dissatisfied with the regime of Salazar. The Salazar dictatorship, which has had an exceptionally good press
in the conservative world, is very similar to the regime of Doctor Schuschnigg, late Chancellor of Austria, removed from power by the Nazis. It is Catholic and nationalistic and has suppressed Socialists, Communists, Liberals and Freemasons. These, its victims, now the "outs," hope to be rehabilitated by the Nazis. This may seem strange, but strange things are happening
daily. Recently Lie Passonard, fiery voice of the Spanish Loyalist cause during the civil war,
spoke in Moscow and praised Hitler as the leader
of the German proletarian revolution.

Portugal is of great interest to the United States and the Western Hemisphere as a whole.
Among its possessions are the Azores, the Cape Verde Islands and Portuguese Guinea, the latter on that spot of Africa nearest to Brazil. The Azores and the Cape Verde Islands are at least as much outposts of our defense in the Atlantic
as Hawaii is in the Pacific.

Their ownership by Portugal, a country
closely tied up with Great Britain, has caused us
no more inconvenience or apprehension than have the Bahamas or the British, French and Dutch possessions in the Caribbean. But these Portuguese islands lying between the Bermudas
and Lisbon are vital to our defense in the Atlantic and vital to offense from the European Continent against the Western Hemisphere.

The first part of the Nazi program against the West is to obtain possession of these islands.

After the defeat of England they contemplate
the occupation of Greenland. Udet, the German ace who planned the parachute campaign over the heads of the German General Staff, has explored Greenland and knows it thoroughly. The distance between Greenland and the northwest territory of Canada is less than the distance between Norway and England. Greenland, of course, belongs to Denmark, not to Nazi Germany, and between Denmark and Greenland are the following bays: Denmark-Norway-Iceland-Greenland. The last named is only about five hundred miles from Iceland. The route is similar to that which the Nazis have used to follow from England; Iceland-Greenland-Canada-New York.

With these viewpoints in their hands, the Germans intend to bring military, economic and propaganda pressure upon North and South America. The object will be to secure agreements both here and in South America which are "co-operative."

The appeal will be to self-interest and fear.
It is well known that there are German embassies in all the South American states. Their hardest work is now being done in Mexico and Brazil, the nations nearest to Panama. They are very active at this moment in Uruguay and Guatemala.

The moment the war is over on the Continent
of Europe, Germany will make great peace gestures toward the Western Hemisphere. It will be stated that Germany and Italy are now satiatated nations, that they have no interest in the Western Hemisphere and that the destruction of Europe demands in all humanity the release of American money and resources, for which they will be willing to pay by trade agreements. They

Niagara Falls and its rapids have been the scene of many foolish stunts, principally for the notoriety won by the individual concerned. One of these was the stunt performed on July 11, 1889, when Carlisle D. Graham of Philadelphia went through the rapids in a barrel, the first to do so.
In a barrel of his own construction, weighted
at the bottom, Graham went successfully through the whirlpool rapids to Lewiston in 35 minutes. A month and eight days later he made a second trip, and, true to promise in advance, had his head out of the barrel all the way. This "advised stunt" left him hard of hearing, for a big wave dived him a mighty deep on the side of the skull. He made a third trip June 15, 1889, and a fourth on August 25, 1889, that time in a much smaller barrel.

For 12 years he rested on his laurels. Then,
on July 14, 1901, he made a fifth trip, which almost ended his life, for he was caught in an eddy, where he was held for 20 minutes and nearly suffocated. Graham then arranged "a double stunt" with a woman, one Maude Willard. She was to go through the rapids in a barrel and he would wait her at the whirlpool
on the American side. If the barrel was swept out the pool, Graham was to swim to the rescue beside it. If it was caught and held there he was to go on alone. Miss Willard and her pet dog died in the barrel while waiting for the cork,
gripped in the whirlpool, to be taken from the river, but Graham seen on Lewiston, he is credited with being the only person who ever accomplished the feat.

Perhaps the most tragic world thrilling incident in the whirlpool rapids took place on June 24, 1893, when Captain Matthew Webb, who had won fame as being the first Briton to swim the English Channel, was drowned. He was rowed out to the centre of the river. While several hundred yds. from the rapids he leaped overboard and swam into the raging waters. He was soon swept under by a mighty wave. Four days later his body was picked up seven miles
down the river.

The Common Round

By J. BUTTERFIELD

The trend of modern science appears to be devoted to the proposition that man shall be robbed of his choicest gift—the gift of imagination. While rapid transportation has practically done away with all specialized civilizations and
merged them into one great amorphous civilization, while the newspapers and TELEVISION radio have robbed us of the great human privilege of word
of mouth intimacy and the gift of imagination,
while the nature arising from private correspondence and the words of an eye-witness, science is even now at work upon the blasphemy of television whereby actual pictures of actual facts
are to be brought into the Canadian living room.
It is time somebody protested against these things.

I already have a television set and I wouldn't change it for an inhuman device that could serve
no purpose other than destroy my own intimate pictures. I see everything I hear, and so do millions of people, and what makes it so jolly is that we all see it differently. Are we Germans that we should all think alike?

When the present bangs, rattles and percussions in the middle of broadcast from London
and the local announcer says that owing to circumstances over which he has no control the news has failed I can see as clearly as anything that the big silent picture of London is literally falling about my ears, that the B.B.C. house is bombed. I can visualize some wag
standing in the underground station at Westminster and coolly remarking: "The time has come," as Big Ben falls with a crash into Palace Yard. It doesn't matter that the announcer says
a moment later that a wire was down at Revel-stock, I don't care. I've had my television.

This craze for actuality is like illustrating a novel with photographs and facts for the imagination. Therefore it is evil.

There are innumerable booby traps in the English language provided for the confusion of foreigners. Not only are there many words bearing a number of different meanings but very often there occurs a word whose nuance of meaning of connotation are varied definitely by
the "addition" of a syllable.

At the present time there is no
extra charge levied for second or third offences, nor are court costs borne by the accused. In other words, the pedestrian has to pay a share of the costs of the court used for traffic cases. I refer to the new tagging system. A tag affixed to a car, or presented to the driver by
the officer, means that the offender
must appear at the private Auto
Court on the 1st floor of the Police

WASHING Washing is one of them. If another grabs her son by the ears before breakfast and says belligerently: "Have you washed?" she means has he washed his person.
In fact, hands and face are washed. That is the simple use of the word. If you see her later and ask her what she's going to do she will say she's going to wash up. That means the breakfast things—if she's a good housewife. When it comes to a big washhouse washing or laundry the word is again simple: "I'm going to wash." But when it is just a few filmy underthings that
the girl friend hangs over chair backs to dry
that is called washing through or washing out.
There is another wash-out but that is an idiom
meaning the game is up.

And finally when the old man undertakes to give the car a treat with a hose and sponge, that is called a washdown. And when he finishes
the sidewalk, turns the hose around and washes-off
the sidewalk. Then he is all washed up for the day—which is another idiom that has nothing
to do with washing.

There is something awfully breezy and rejuvenating to an elderly person in the stirring news of how we took the French fleet and one finds it a little difficult to share the extremes of grief and mental torture expressed by Mr.
Churchill about the necessity for that action.

It is rejuvenating because it takes a fellow back to his childhood. In that dim and distant period we were taught by our aunts and nurses to regard the Germans as our natural enemies; it was a domestic British hangover from the Napoleonic wars and clung about
the mentality of the people like any other established British belief when nothing of note had occurred to disrupt it.

In that period of boyish splendor—believe it or not—our favorite reading was still of the stirring sea fights between the British and the French confederates in stout oak bottoms rigged with glistening white sails and armed with muzzle-loading guns.

We loved the stories of how a cagey British commander would tow a sail astern half-way across the Atlantic to fool a following Frenchman into the belief he was disabled. We loved boarding parties and the alash of cutlasses upon cutlasses that ensued; we loved the scupperns running with blood and brains; we loved the capture of the ship and the cheering words of dying heroes. Blake, Collingwood, Howe and, of course, Nelson, were household words to us.

Today all that glory is past but the spirit remains and the action at Froon was undoubtedly the most thrilling human thing in a war conducted by machines.

Religion Day By Day
By WILLIAM T. ELLIS
IT DOESN'T FIT
Amidst the solitude of the whispering pines,
and the loneliness of a lovely lake, we have installed a radio, which brings the nations of Canada and the United States into strange nearness. Our humble cabin has its ear open to the whole world.

Most of what comes over the air is incongruous with the simple and natural majesty of our environment. It does not fit in. These nervous jazz orchestras, and ragged-throated
"popular" singers, with their banal and unfathomable blarney, somehow affront our sensibilities to an unusual degree up here in the woods. They may be welcome to the jittery, hectic cities; but they are out of tune with the
trees and the lapping waves and the birds.

There are better things to be heard at times
on the radio, of course, and the art of listening is one with the art of life—to be open-souled to
the beautiful and dead to the ugly.

Give us courage and wisdom, our Father, to take into our lives only those things which make for peace and strength. Especially would we be habit-ual listeners for Thy voice, Amen.

Traffic Kick

Editor, Bulletin: Many drivers of auto-vehicles in this city are extremely inconsiderate of the rights of the pedestrian and perhaps
this is why a driver might be "tagged"
on 6 consecutive days and yet
be fined only $1.00 on each charge.
All traffic bylaws cases should be tried in the ordinary police court
where they would think twice before appearing in that court. If traffic offenders had to take their place in the dock, and await their turn, the same as any other person accused of some criminal action, they would think twice before passing stop-signs, emerging from lanes without coming to a stop, passing standing street cars, etc., etc.

Overwork may tend to induce exhaustion, especially when the work is distasteful or when it causes
anxiety or worry.

The patient who is conscious of being overworked must be especially careful to avoid eyestrain.

Consistent over-eating plays some part in producing exhaustion because the excess food uses up energy in its digestion, which energy must be put to better use.

You will find you are best able to avoid exhaustion by observing the following amount of sleep
you need to keep you feeling thoroughly rested. Learn how to refresh. Find something to enjoy in your work. Eat sensibly. Check the urine.

Also, take enough exercise to keep you up on your feet. Regular exercise often has a revitalizing and stimulating effect, which will be productive of that feeling of health
which is the opposite of the languid
feeling of one who is overworked.

With sensible living, exhaustion
may be banished and better rewards
which follow in the way of an improved working of all the vital organs will soon convince you that your new way of living is well worth while.

McKenney On Bridge

By WM. E. MCKENNEY, America's Card Authority

This is the fourth of a series
of 12 articles on when, and
when not to concern an honor
with an honor.

One of the rules to be observed
is cover an honor with an honor
when you think you can play may
than a card for your partner or for yourself. Don't cover when you definitely have the better protected
and that may be the only way to lose it.

In today's hand dealer will ruff
the second diamond and lead a low heart, finessing the Jack. Now he leads the Jack of spades from dummy.

If East covers, declarer will lead a low trump to the nine-spot, and then
pick up the trumps and take another heart finesse. The South will win five spades, three hearts and two clubs.

East's king of spades is guarded,
and while covering the Jack may establish the eight-spot, there is no

deceit to do this. By refusing to cover the Jack of the nine, East will make it impossible for South to extend the King and the Contract must go down to defeat.

New Maid: "You will look funny."

Border Adventure

CAST OF CHARACTERS
 BETTY MARY JORDAN—Pretty young Border Patrol service secretary.
 SHERIDAN STARR—Handsome Border Patrol officer.
 HOPE KILDARE—Starr's fellow officer, also a bachelor.
 LUIS BARRA—Mexican smuggler.

Yesterday, at the sight of the Barras ranch, Sherry continues his wood cutting act, wondering if Betty Jones, him after she tells him that Hope had already proposed.

CHAPTER XXV

SHERIDAN STARR ceased being a Mexican woodcutter as soon as night settled over Mexico. "Betty Mary?" he called, when he felt it was safe to start again.

"Yes," she answered instantly, from beneath the boxes in the burro cart.

"It's dark now. I think we can make a try for the river."

"Can I actually come out of this goodness?"

"I apologize. I sure am sorry you had to stay there, but there was no way of knowing who might be observing us or who—"

"Don't, Sheridan! It is I who am sorry. I never met you until I came here. I was not uncomfortable. She had crawled out, with his help, and stood near to smile up at him. "I was just—"

He squeezed her arm a little, and somehow this gesture conveyed more than a thousand words might have. She looked quickly up at him again. The big officer was anything but handsome now. He wore a scraggly set of gray whiskers, adroitly glued on. His normally black hair had been brushed with gray ton, especially around the temples. His high-crowned straw sombrero was frayed and long. His clothing was very old and ragged.

But Betty Mary saw right through the convincing makeup, as the man she really knew.

"Sherry," she almost whispered, "I recognize you."

"Yes!"

"I just—I just want you to know I like you as a friend! You Hope. I am well aware that you ask your lives to rescue me."

"Shouldn't we were just play acting. Skip it. Anyway, young woman, we aren't out of danger yet. We're still in Mexico."

"Play acting or not, it was wonderful. How did you know to make up this way? It's perfect!"

We didn't. There's a stock company on an El Paso stage. One of their actors helped us. Hope was dark and handsome enough to look like a Mex without much change. They had to cover up to our mug, though. Come on, let's get going."

"What about the cart, and the burro?"

"Aren't worth $50. I've turned the burros loose to run wild."

To avoid suspicion, Sherry had driven his cart and Betty Mary parallel with the border, not toward it, so that they now were still more than three miles from the river. She knew there could be no ride and further, lest some of Barra's agents detect them. They could be inquisitive if they walked.

"I can carry you if you get foot weary," he told her. Those shoes she had worn were not made for walking in rocks and cactus thorns.

"They're better than the ragged sandals you have on. Anyway, I weigh a lot."

"I'll bet," he squeezed her arm again. "You don't look like playing dolls. Well, stay right behind me, and act dumb if anybody talks to you."

They saw only a few rural folk but no one accosted them, and after about an hour's walking they came to the Rio Grande. It looked heavenly to Betty not only because of its real beauty but, because on the other shore lay the United States.

"It looks wide," she said. "I hope I am not too fatigued to swim that far."

Gallantly, then, Sherry stooped and picked her up in his arms and solemnly waded into the water. She thought it a very strange position in which to swim, a girl in swimming, but she waited, trusting him. Before she realized it, they were in the water. The water was just a little above his knees.

"Is the swimming—very hard, Mr. Starr?" she asked mockingly.

He chuckled, and held her a little tighter.

Willie had put her down on the American shore, with a frank sign of relief to be at his own side. Well, stay right behind me, and act dumb if anybody talks to you."

They saw only a few rural folk but no one accosted them, and after about an hour's walking they came to the Rio Grande. It looked heavenly to Betty not only because of its real beauty but, because on the other shore lay the United States.

and, such drama can draw two people very close together. He knew Hope was crazy about her. Probably she had made up her mind, after the experience today, that Hope's ardent love was what she wanted most of all. Sherry reasoned.

The big fellow allowed him, and changed the subject. But Hope had settled on him. He talked very little more until they were back in El Paso, in serious conference with Hope himself.

"I had no trouble," Hope avowed there. "I drove the old rented truck right on into Juarez, across the bridge and into the American officers' hands. Of course they let me in when they recognized me—but they had some fun doing that! I'm sure glad you two made it safely."

"They had to explain every detail about them, and a new plan to effect. After all, Barra was still a threat, and they knew the plans he had for his crossing at New Channel."

"He may or may not change his place and his date," big Sheridan told them, eventually. "He'll know that Betty Mary escaped, but he won't know how much she knows. Didn't you say that woman you talked to in his house, Betty Mary, was coming immediately to this side?"

"Yes," said Betty Mary.

"Then Barra won't know you talked to her. And since you know you were a spy. And you didn't talk confidentially to any other servant or anybody, as Barra may conclude that you don't know his plan at all. Even if he did, he may go right on with his plan, thinking he is safe with that many men. He would be, too, if we weren't tipped off a hundred times by strangers and smugglers—gosh!"

"Nuts! Here comes another Good Will Flight!"

Applications For Air Force Duties 8,100 In Edmonton

By KEN METHERAL

The Royal Canadian Air Force is aiding Edmonton in upholding its claim as one of the leading "production" centres in the world. Edmonton produced the famous Commercial Grads, who captured so many world's basketball championships; from Edmonton sprang the mighty Eddie Shore to take his place as the greatest defenceman in the history of ice hockey; and Edmonton's "Fighting Forty-Ninth" led the way into the thick of battle in the first Great War.

Officers in charge of R.C.A.F. recruiting in Edmonton have maintained the old tradition of "Edmonton First," and since the outbreak of war they have been handling so many applications, Ottawa officials are almost dizzy trying to keep up with them.

Flight Lieut. J. H. Christie, officer in charge of the Edmonton R.C.A.F. recruiting centre, revealed Thursday that more than 8,100 applications have been reviewed by recruiting officers since the centre was opened here last fall. Of this number, more than 1,600 have received trade tests and medical examinations. At the present time successful applicants are being enlisted and sent to training centres at the rate of 200 men per month. In June 196 men were enlisted.

VOLUME OF WORK

Some idea of the tremendous volume of work accomplished by the handful of recruiting officers and five comely stenographers at the Edmonton recruiting centre, can be gained when it is realized that each of the 8,100 applicants had to be interviewed twice. Applicants are interviewed a second time when they turn in their filled-in application. This is followed by the medical examination and then comes the swearing-in ceremony when the men are enlisted and sent to training centres.

Counting the individual interviews, trade tests, medical examinations and swearing-in ceremonies, the total far exceeds the 16,000 mark. And the passing of this 16,000 mark has meant strenuous hours for the men in charge of the recruiting centre here.

Flight Lieut. Christie also revealed there are approximately 1,500 incomplete applications for air force trade positions and air crew positions in the Edmonton recruiting centre. He has issued an appeal to all men in Edmonton and northern Alberta who have failed to complete their application to do so at once.

Many of the men left only their

Count Ignatieff Joins Highlanders On Active Service

Count Nicholas Ignatieff, member of the teaching staff of the faculty of agriculture at the University of Alberta, left Wednesday for Calgary to join the Calgary Highlanders, second division C.A.S.F. He holds the rank of lieutenant.

Count Ignatieff, a graduate of London University, London, England, studied at the University of Alberta and received his master of science degree here, then obtained his doctor's degree at Toronto University. He has spent the past six years on the staff of Alberta University.

Premier Hepburn Leaves Hospital: Returns Home

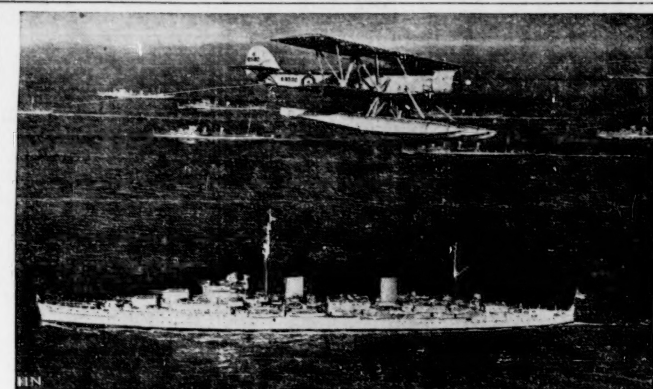

BATTLE CREEK, Man., July 11.—Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn of Ontario, who for the last two weeks has been convalescing at the Battle Creek Sanitarium from an attack of bronchial pneumonia and a kidney ailment left Wednesday.

His physician confirmed that the premier left the sanitarium by automobile, but declined to disclose his destination. He said the premier appeared fully recovered.

One source at the sanitarium said Mr. Hepburn was going directly to his farm home near St. Thomas, Ont.

Names at the recruiting centre, while others filled out official forms but failed to provide the necessary certificates of birth and education and letters of reference. Lieut. Christie stated:

He asked that the men complete their applications as soon as possible so that their positions would be clarified in advance of the next call-ups of quotas of men for the Canadian forces. Regulations require that the proper forms be filled out and the necessary certificates provided, if the applications are to have official approval.

As Britain's Mighty Fleet Passes Gibraltar

Britain's fleet passes Gibraltar, fortified Rock at the entrance to the Mediterranean, en route to the Atlantic where it will defend the British coastline from German attack. Successful demobilization of the French east Mediterranean fleet has been effected by the Royal Navy. In the picture above, the H.M.S. Aurora is the cruiser that appears in the foreground.

ITALIANS LOSE THREE PLANES IN AIR RAID

CAIRO, Egypt, July 11.—The Royal Air Force issued the following communique today:

"Six Barchini was bombed yesterday by enemy aircraft with only slight damage and no casualties. A formation of Blenheim attacked a large petrol dump near Tobruk. Direct hits were registered on the buildings were bombed and several large flames were seen. Several raids were carried out on Matruh aerodrome and landing grounds. In the evening a direct hit was registered on one hangar, much black smoke resulting.

"The following day the aerodrome buildings were bombed and several fires started, while another raid was carried by bombers supported by fighters. The latter destroyed three CR-42s (Italian planes) on the ground by machine-gun fire.

"All our aircraft returned safely from these operations.

"Large formations of enemy aircraft raided Malta yesterday. Our fighters intercepted and shot down two in flames. A third probably was destroyed. Damage was slight. Casualties were one civilian killed, three injured, 20 goals and one bull killed."

Grasshoppers Likely To Make "Air Raid" Here

Danger of grasshopper flights into this province from Saskatchewan was seen Thursday by provincial government officials. They pointed out that while the "hopper" hazard has passed its peak in Alberta so far as concerns the feeding stage, a critical situation faces the province in that the pest might come here from Saskatchewan.

Wind and other weather conditions will affect flight or migration of the pests as a result of exhaustion of feeding grounds, an official stated. It was recalled that on one occasion, a big flight of grasshoppers from Saskatchewan invaded North Dakota. Until the migration period has passed, the "hopper" menace cannot be considered over. Considerable damage has been inflicted on crops in the south eastern part of the province. Farmers elsewhere in the province are scanning the skies to see if clouds of the pests will descend on their fields.

British Union Now Outlawed

LONDON, July 11.—Home Secretary Sir John Anderson issued an order last night outlawing the British union formerly Sir Oswald Mosley's British Union of Fascists. Mosley and leading members of the union were arrested in raids against "fifth column" suspects May 23.

FRENCH TARS OF INTERNED SHIPS SAIL

ALEXANDRIA, July 11.—The steamship "Provence" carrying "several hundred" French sailors, sailed today for Syria en route to France. The sailors represented the first contingent to be repatriated under the British-French fleet agreement.

The sailors sang as the "Provence" sailed, with huge French tricolors painted on its sides, glided past British warships at the entrance to the harbor.

The sailors were part of the personnel of the French fleet which had been serving here with the British fleet when France signed armistices with Germany and Italy. Britain demanded and received this week an agreement whereby the ships are to be interned here for the duration of the war, their armament dismantled and their crews sent home.

Far East Policy U.S. Sole Concern

LONDON, July 11.—Richard Butler, undersecretary for foreign affairs, told the commons yesterday that "United States policy in the Far East is the sole concern of the United States government."

CLIMAX SEEN APPROACHING IN NEAR EAST

Britain Will Not Tolerate Hostile Power In Syria

CAIRO, Egypt, July 11.—Events in Syria and nearby areas were reported today to be moving toward a climax, set in motion by the defeat of France, and Britain's subsequent declaration that she will not tolerate a hostile power in the area held by France under League of Nations mandate, these developments were described as centering around five major factors:

- 1—Britain's determination that neither Italy nor Germany shall gain a foothold in the country which gives access to the rich Mosul oil fields, important sources of supply for her fleet and air forces.
- 2—The fear of Syria's neighbors, Turkey and Iraq, both Britain's allies, that the new power, should it be the result of the defeat of France, might, through control of Syria, establish themselves on their frontiers.
- 3—The tendency of Syrian nationalists to view France's collapse as the long-awaited opportunity to achieve Syrian independence. Some of them believe Britain might help.
- 4—Possible revival of an old plan to make the pro-British Emir Abdallah of Trans-Jordan, king of a new state to be formed by uniting Syria with Trans-Jordan.
- 5—The strong opposition of King Ibn Saud and Saudi Arabia to any such scheme. Most powerful of Arab monarchs, Ibn Saud is reported to hope to gain the throne of Syria for one of his sons.

French authorities in Syria face a delicate situation. The force assembled there for the war against Germany, estimated at between 100,000 and 200,000 men, normally would be a guarantee of the status quo.

But one section of this army is known to be clamoring for demobilization. The men want to go home. Other units wish to fight on with Britain.

25,000 Warplanes May Be Added To Army, Navy Forces

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Possibility that 25,000 warplanes may be added to the army and navy forces within two years developed today in a defence commission announcement that contracts for $100,000,000 worth had been let in recent days and that other contracts were being consummated rapidly.

MACHINERY FOR ROAD SURFACING GIVING RESULTS

Scotty Moir is scheduled to arrive in Edmonton tonight on the return leg of a flight to Whitehorse. He is flying one of Yukon's southern big Bessie Grow aircraft, while Sheldrick Luck is making the trip from Fort St. John to Vancouver in a similar plane.

Jack Moir of Canadian Airways arrived in Edmonton Wednesday evening flying a Norseman. He brought in seven passengers including Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Pinky, veteran traders at Fort Resolution, and Mrs. Mulroney, wife of the president of Thompson-Lundmark mines. Fred Mellick left Edmonton for Yellowknife in the Junkers plane with three passengers on board including Bill McGruther, representative of the Burns Co. at Yellowknife. Air Canada is northbound to Eldorado from Yellowknife.

Archie McMillen, veteran northern pilot with Yellowknife Air Service, was northbound from the Cooking Lake Seaplane base Thursday morning in the Bellanca Air-trainer. Among his passengers were Mel Wright, who will be assisting the postmaster at Yellowknife, and Peter Baker, veteran trapper and fisherman of the Fort Smith area. Bud Potter returned to Peace River from Fort Vermilion. Fred Smith and intermediary points. Al Brown, with the Beechcraft, and George Gilmour, with the Stinson, are on charter work in the Yellowknife district.

P. E. Red' Scharfe, one of the best known and best liked government radio men in the far north, was back in civilization today after having spent eight years in the north. Red' went north in 1932 and was stationed at McMurray until 1934, when he went to Alkali Lake. In 1937 he was transferred to Ft. Norman, where he remained until he "came out" with Chief Pilot Bob Randall Tuesday in the Mackenzie Air Service Barkley-Grow airliner.

Scharfe is a signaler with the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals, and is on his way east for new duties. During his eight years in the north, he proved of invaluable aid to pilots flying the northern routes, supplying them with last-minute weather reports, checking their positions, and providing a "contact" outside. Other passengers coming out with Randall included Al Hamdon, trader at Ft. Chipewyan, and Mrs. Mar-
